TEN PAGES—THREE CENTS

INVESTIGATION AT STATEVILLE OPENS MONDAY

Bishop J. H. Schlarmann Elected Temporary Chairman

By Earl Aykroid
Associated Press Staff Writer
Joliet, Ill., Feb. 17.—(AP)—Bishop J. H. Schlarmann of the Catholic diocese of Peoria was elected temporary chairman today of the special commission which gathered here to begin a state-wide investigation of prisons and their administration.

With his appointment, Bishop Schlarmann stated he did not believe the commission would inquire into the razor slaying of Richard Loeb—the death which brought demands for the investigation—until after the Will County grand jury had completed its inquiry.

"As far as this investigation is concerned," the churchman said, "the Loeb case is simply one incident. We are going into conditions generally in an attempt to prevent a repetition of such incidents."

The arrival of warden Roy Best of the Colorado State Prison at Canon City late today brought the commission's membership to eight, with only two of them appointed by Governor Henry Horner to assist in the probe. They were Dr. Preston Bradley, Chicago, and Charles H. Schweppe, Chicago.

Members of the commission gathered tonight to hear the suggestions of warden Best and Col. Henry Barrett Chamberlin, director of the Chicago Crime Commission, on what procedure should be followed.

Col. Chamberlin said he believed the commission should conduct a comprehensive survey as possible, and proposed as a base the schedule and procedure of the U. S. Bureau of Prisons. "If the commission decides to proceed along these lines it will mean a long investigation," he stated.

Bishop Schlarmann said the commission's first day's work, in which it came to no conclusions, was to get a general knowledge of prison conditions at Stateville.

Under the guidance of warden Joseph Ragen and A. L. Bowen, director of the state department of welfare, the investigators visited cells, talked with prisoners and inspected the washroom in which Loeb met his death Jan. 7.

The bishop spoke to the prison, canary cages and family pictures observed in the cells. He tasted the prison fare and pronounced it good.

Newspaper Fails To Make An Extra

Florence, Ala., Feb. 17.—(AP)—For once a newspaper failed to make an extra. The Florence Times "just couldn't do it" on the TVA decision. The Times published here at the site of Wilson Dam held a wire to the Associated Press bureau in Birmingham for nearly half an hour, and when the flash came "Government Wins TVA" bedlam broke loose. A crowd jammed the business office and news room as Louis Eckl, news editor, took the relay and an hour after the decision was read, Eckl said, "We intended to get out an extra but they (the celebrators) wouldn't give us time."

KILLED BY TRAIN
Worden, Ill. Feb. 17.—(AP)—Louis F. Albrecht, a member of the Madison county board of supervisors, was killed today when his brakes apparently failed and his automobile skidded in front of a Wabash passenger train.

Some Significant Sentences From T. V. A. Opinion

Washington, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Here are some of the significant sentences in the Supreme Court's majority TVA opinion:

The pronouncements, policies and program of the Tennessee Valley authority and its directors, their motives and desires, did not give rise to a justifiable controversy x x x.

The power to regulate interstate commerce embraces the power to keep the navigable rivers of the United States free from obstruction to navigation and to remove such obstructions when they exist.

The Wilson Dam and its power plants must be taken to have been constructed in the exercise of the constitutional function of the federal government.

Water Power, the right to convert it into electric energy, and the electric energy thus produced, constitute property belonging to the United States.

Authority to dispose of property constitutionally acquired by the United States is expressly granted to the congress by section 3 of Article 4 of the constitution.

The government has no less right to the energy thus available by letting the water course over its turbines than it has to use the appropriate processes to reduce to possession other properties within its control, as for example, oil x x x.

Would anyone say that x x x with abundant power available, which must otherwise be wasted, the supply to the communities and enterprises whose very life may be at stake must be limited to the small amount of surplus unavoidably involved in the operations of the navigation work, because the constitution does not permit any more energy to be generated and distributed?

The constitutional provision is silent as to the matter of disposing of property belonging to the United States. That method, of course, must be an appropriate means of disposition x x x. It must be one adopted in the public interest x x x consistent with the foundation principles of our dual system of government. x x x.

As to the mere sale of surplus energy, nothing need be added to what we have said as to the constitutional

Wisconsin News

Employees Strike; Paper Is Issued

Reporters, Photographers, Copyreaders, Re-write Men, Walkout

Milwaukee, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Members of the American Newspaper Guild employed on the Wisconsin News went on strike today, contending the management refused to sign a contract covering hours, wages and working conditions.

Reporters, copy readers, re-write men and photographers, many of whom have covered numerous strikes in Milwaukee, immediately formed picket lines and paraded in sub-zero weather before the News plant.

Guild officials said the News, a Hearst paper, is the largest in the country to be involved in a strike of its members.

J. Nash McCrea, chairman of the strike committee, said that 31 out of 35 News room employees walked out. E. R. Mahoney, managing editor said about 20 workers did not report for duty.

The News published as usual. A contract submitted seven weeks ago to John H. Black, general manager, provided for a closed shop a five day week, a minimum wage scale ranging from $30 to $70 a week depending on length of service, a dismissal bonus, vacations with pay and several less important items.

The Guild said in a formal statement that Black refused to recognize the Guild or to bargain collectively with it and attempted to split the News unit's membership and form a company union.

In a published statement, the News said that "among the 655 employees who did not strike are all of the men and women on the newspaper who are in good standing in the ranks of union labor." In those union organizations, the News said it "places utmost confidence."

Snowslide Kills Six In Colorado

Cortez, Colo., Feb. 17.—(AP)—Sheriff Jess Robinson, of Montezuma county, received word tonight that six persons were killed in a snowslide which wiped out the Hesperus Mining company property near Mancos, east of here.

The name of Mrs. Dorman Rees, Cortez, a cook in the camp, was given to the sheriff as one of the dead. Robinson said he was informed by telephone that the camp, cook house, mining building and bunkhouses at the Doyle property of the Hesperus company were wrecked.

The road between here and Mancos has been closed by deep snow drifts for several days. An effort was to be made tonight to open it in an effort to take aid to the stricken camp.

The transmission lines x x x provide the means of distributing the electric energy, generated at the Dam, to a large population. They furnish a method of reaching a market.

We suppose that in the early days of mining in the west, if the government had undertaken to operate a silver mine on its domains, it could have acquired the mules or horses and equipment to carry its silver to market.

Transmission lines for electric energy are but a facility for conveying to market that particular sort of property, and the acquisition x x x raises no different constitutional question, unless in some way there is an invasion of the rights reserved to the states or to the people.

Certainly, the Alabama Power company has no constitutional right to insist that it shall be the sole purchaser of the energy generated at the Wilson Dam; that the energy shall be sold to it or go to waste.

We limit our decision to the case before us, as we have defined it x x x. The government is not using the water power at Wilson Dam to establish using the energy generated at the any industry or business. It is not using the energy generated at the dam to manufacture commodities of any sort.

The government rightly conceded x x x that it was without constitutional authority to acquire or dispose of such energy except as it comes into being in the operation of work constructed in the exercise of some power delegated to the United States.

The question of the constitutional right of the government to acquire or operate local or urban distribution systems is not involved.

We express no opinion as to the validity of such an effort as to the status of any other dam or power development in the Tennessee Valley, whether connected with or apart from the Wilson Dam, or as to the validity of the Tennessee Valley authority act, or of the claims made in the pronouncement and program of the authority apart from the question we have discussed x x x.

TWO MEN CONFESS MANY HOLDUPS IN ILLINOIS

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 17.—(AP)—Springfield police announced tonight two men confessed participation in more than a dozen holdups here and other places in central Illinois over the weekend.

The men, both arrested tonight, gave their names as Roy Lane and Albert Johnson, both 25 and of Springfield.

Lane was found to be wounded in the hip. Police said he was shot early today in an attempt to hold up a filling station at Greenville, Ill. He was said to have been paroled recently from the Pontiac reformatory.

Hauptmann Will Be Sentenced Next Wednesday

New Death Date Probably Will Be Week Of March 23 Or 30

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 17.—(AP)—Bruno Richard Hauptmann's third death date—probably the week of March 23 or March 30—will be set Wednesday.

Assistant Attorney General Joseph Lanigan, one of Hauptmann's trial prosecutors, announced today he would appear at 10:30 a. m., that day before Supreme Court Justice Thomas W. Trenchard, the trial judge. Lanigan will ask him to sign a new death warrant for the man convicted of the Lindbergh baby kidnap-murder.

By law, the new death date must be not less than four nor more than eight weeks from the date the warrant is signed. It is customary to name either the fifth or sixth week.

Meantime, Hauptmann's visitors reported he still was hopeful of escaping the chair. The Rev. John Matthiesen, Hauptmann's spiritual adviser who was with Samuel S. Leibowitz, New York criminal lawyer, during the three-hour and 40-minute talk with Hauptmann in the death house yesterday, said Hauptmann was certain his protestations of innocence would save him. It was learned reliably today that Hauptmann did not change his story.

The attorney fired question after question at Hauptmann, and told him the only thing that could save him was new evidence supplied by Hauptmann himself. Hauptmann replied the story he had told many times was true.

LEWIS IN SPRINGFIELD

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 17.—(AP)—John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers of America, visited here today, but declined to discuss mine union issues of Illinois. He emphasized that in endorsing President Roosevelt at the recent U. M. W. A. convention, the union did not "endorse the Democratic party as such" but merely approved the president's re-election.

WALTER PROVINE AND PAUL KUHN FILE PETITIONS

Five Republicans In Slender Stores Food And Fuel Said To Be Dwindling

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 17.—(AP)—Two more names were posted today for the Republican gubernatorial race in the April 14 primary, raising the entry list to five and leaving three other announced candidates another week to get in line.

Walter M. Provine of Taylorville and J. Paul Kuhn of Batavia filed at the secretary of state's office during the day, joining C. Wayland Brooks of Chicago, Oscar E. Carlstrom of Aledo and Len Small of Kankakee, who already have made formal entries.

Both downstate candidates, Provine is a former United States district attorney for Southern Illinois and Kuhn was Batavia city attorney for several years and a member of the State Commerce Commission under both the Small and Emmerson administration.

Provine issued a statement charging that Cook County Republican leaders are "making deals" with the Democratic organization headed by Mayor Edward J. Kelly and Patrick A. Nash, national committeeman, who have put forward Dr. Herman N. Bundesen of Chicago as their candidate for governor.

"Cook county would return Republican majorities if there were not so many Republican leaders in Chicago enmeshed in the Democratic machine," Provine asserted.

Without mentioning Cook County, Kuhn, who is chairman of the Kane County Republican Committee, pledged himself to reduce government expenditures and deal promptly with problems of agriculture, old age pensions and unemployment insurance.

Republicans who have announced but not filed for governor are John G. Olesky of Elkhart, H. Wallace Caldwell of Oak Park and George W. Dowell of Du Quoin. Last filing day for them will be February 24.

Hiram P. Maxim, Inventor Dies At La Junta

Invented "Silencer" For Firearms And Produced Earliest Auto

La Junta, Colo., Feb. 17.—(AP)—Hiram Percy Maxim, 67, who invented the maxim "silencer" for firearms and produced one of the earliest automobiles, died today of a throat infection.

Maxim was taken from a train here last week while enroute to the Pacific coast with his wife. He had been unable to leave the hospital since becoming ill. His wife, son and daughter were with him.

Funeral services will be held in Hagerstown, Md., Friday morning with burial in the family plot of the widow. Born in Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 2, 1869, Maxim was one of a family of inventors who contributed many implements of modern warfare. His father, Hiram S. Maxim, was the inventor of the first machine gun, and with his brother, Hudson Maxim, who died in 1927, contributed smokeless powder and a self-propelled torpedo.

Hiram Percy Maxim was electrical engineer for a number of firms and later organized his own company to manufacture the ordnance equipment he invented. He also was president of the American Radio Relay League, the International Amateur Radio Union and the American Amateur Cinema League.

Before turning his inventive genius to firearms and ordnance, he designed automobiles.

Hen Lays An Egg With Note Inside

Manhattan, Kas., Feb. 17.—(AP)—A hen laid an egg with a note inside of it here.

Of course, Robert E. Phillips, Jr., explained today, she was a college hen. Phillips, Kansas State College poultry husbandry student, said a hollow cork containing the note was inserted in the hen's egg duct. The cork moved down the duct and the white of the egg, the shell membrane and the shell formed normally. To climax the stunt, Phillips sent the egg to a friend, who opened it and extracted the note at a party.

OUT OF DANGER

Danville, Ill., Feb. 17.—(AP)—Doctors attending Everett A. Bates, assistant high school principal who was beaten with a hammer by Donald Cunningham, a student, reported today he was improving and apparently out of danger.

Cunningham is held in jail and has confessed the attack. Police Chief Richard Johnson said, "Two business men who allegedly advised Cunningham to 'get out of town' also are held. Chief Johnson said no other arrests were likely."

Oliver Mann, states attorney, said today Cunningham's case would go over to the May session of the grand jury.

DRIFTING SNOW HAS ISOLATED MANY VILLAGES

Chicago, Feb. 17.—(AP)— Drifting snow raised new barriers about isolated villages in the midwestern storm country today as slender stores of food and fuel dwindled toward the privation level.

A half dozen South Dakota communities—Hereford, Volunteer, Stoneville, Creighton, Fairpoint and Hoover—were cut off again after rescue expeditions had cleared roads leading to them over the week end. Messager reports from the hamlets represented conditions as approaching the critical point.

Corn and fence posts were buried at Hereford. All the flour was gone at Hoover. A new blizzard blocked highways. Silence veiled the progress of relief parties moving toward Sulphur and Twilight. Intense cold prevailed.

Aviator George Hight piloted a ski plane 75 miles through the blizzard to bring Gus Anderson, of Capitol, Wyo., to a hospital at Belle Fourche.

Six sleds were used to draw provisions across snow-filled fields to Hatfield, Mo., marooned for a month. Abnormal cold settled down for another two-day stay in the North Central states. Fresh snow—now a veritable white plague—halted rail and automobile travel in the vicinity of Grand Forks, N. D. Drifts hampered travel in other portions of the north-west and midwest.

Cold records were shattered at several points. An all-time mark was broken at Watertown, S. D., with the 37th consecutive day of sub zero weather was recorded. Fairmont, Minn., suffered the 31st successive day of temperatures that averaged -18. The 27th day in a row of subzero readings bested a mark established in 1883 at Lincoln, Neb.

Fuel shortage closed scores of schools. A two-day coal supply was reported at Enning, S. D. Elm Springs, S. D., had neither fuel nor food.

Two pilots were missing. Clyde Lee, who took off from Pierre, S. D., Sunday afternoon to survey the blizzard-ravaged belt, was unreported. There was no word from Capt. E. W. Stitt, who started for ice-locked Smith Island in Chesapeake Bay Sunday. Fog-shrouded the region.

Jack McGurn's Widow Quizzed By Officials

Captain Martin Mullen Is Dissatisfied With Her Account Of Activities

Chicago, Feb. 17.—(AP)—The blond widow of "Machine Gun Jack" McGurn was questioned by officials today as the investigation of her husband's slaying took several swift turns.

Captain Martin Mullen declared he was dissatisfied with the account of her activities in the hours that preceded the assassination of the former Capone satellite early last Saturday.

Mrs. McGurn had told investigators she had awakened her husband at 11 p. m. Friday to keep a bowling date with two unnamed friends. He was shot to death at a restaurant party two hours later.

But Margaret Swift, 19 year old stenographer, informed authorities she didn't leave Mrs. McGurn until 12:50 a. m. Saturday after they had visited several taverns.

Miss Swift's story also caused detectives to impugn the tale that McGurn died "broke." She said that at a party last week the eight girls present drank gin until Mrs. McGurn appeared, "but when she got there she pulled out a roll of bills and we drank good bourbon."

In an effort to ascertain the true financial status of the slain gangster, detectives prepared to open his safety deposit box in an Oak Park bank tomorrow. They speculated on the possibility it may prove a Pandora box of gangland records—possibly containing papers that would yield clues to his recent activities in the gambling field and clues to the motive for his death.

A key for the depository was found in McGurn's abandoned car early today—providing the first working lead.

CHAPLIN TAKES REST

San Pedro, Calif., Feb. 17.—(AP)—Charles Chaplin went to sea today "for a rest."

Accompanying him aboard the President Coolidge was his leading lady, Paulette Goddard, her mother, Mrs. Alta Goddard, and his valet, Frank Yemomari.

"We'll stop at Honolulu," said the actor. "Maybe we'll take a boat there to the south seas, perhaps Tahiti. I want to see some fishings."

ENTERS RACE

Elsin, Ill., Feb. 17.—(AP)—State Rep. Frank A. McCarthy, Elsin attorney, announced his independent candidacy for the republican nomination for Attorney General today. "I am not the candidate of any group of individuals or political faction, and will not align myself with any such groups," McCarthy said. "I believe the Republicans of Illinois should select the candidates for next November."

Roosevelt Administration Wins "Tennessee Valley" Dispute in Supreme Court

(By the Associated Press)
The Roosevelt administration won the Tennessee Valley dispute in the Supreme Court.

An opinion by Chief Justice Hughes, with which Justice McReynolds alone dissented, held:

The government may build dams for constitutional purposes. It may sell electricity generated by such dams. It may take steps to carry that electricity to a market.

Constitutionality of the vast TVA project as a whole was not interpreted. The court limited its ruling to the above-mentioned issues.

New Dealers hailed the decision citizens of Florence, Ala., danced in the streets. Power interests declined immediate comment. Stock market traders guessed wrong, with utility prices dropping after an initial rise in a 4,900,000-share day.

By Melbourne Christerson, Associated Press Staff Writer.

Washington, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Government sale of electricity generated at dams constructed for national defense or other constitutional purposes was upheld today by the Supreme Court in its long-awaited TVA decision.

Chief Justice Hughes, in an opinion from which Justice McReynolds alone dissented, ruled in addition that the government could take steps to provide a market for such "surplus power."

But while the court thus placed its approval on the Tennessee Valley authority's acquisition of transmission lines owned by the Alabama Power Company leading from Williston Dam on the historic site of Muscle Shoals, Hughes warned:

"We limit our decision to the case before us, as we have defined it."

Despite the limitation, New Dealers were quick to contend that the 7,000-word opinion laid down a broad gauge of policy measuring other TVA dams, and similar projects scattered throughout the country.

The court did not, however, pass on the validity of the vast Tennessee Valley program as a whole, or on TVA's announced intention to

Kid Cann's Alibi Is Assailed By Chief Prosecutor

Final Arguments Will Be Made Before Jury Today

Minneapolis, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Fred Pike, chief prosecutor in the trial of Isadore Blumenfeld (Kid Cann) for the slaying of Publisher Walter Liggett, censured police activity in the case and assailed the defendant's alibi claim in his final argument today.

Plans of Judge Arthur Selover to give the jurors his instructions tonight were abandoned when defense counsel Thomas McMeekin protested he did not want to argue before a "fixed jury." Court adjourned until tomorrow when Pike will resume his plea.

Before a jammed courtroom, Pike hit at police questioning of Liggett's widow in the moments after his slaying last Dec. 9, characterizing it as "approaching 'the third degree'."

"It seems to me they were trying to make her say something that would confuse the identity of the defendant," he continued. Mrs. Liggett testified that Blumenfeld was the slayer of her husband.

"Look at the relative treatment given the defendant before and after his arrest and the treatment given Mrs. Liggett," Pike said.

"The evidence of those police officers (referring to testimony given by policemen summoned by the defense) must be weighed in the light of their attitude to the defendant and the widow of the man killed."

OFFER BONDS

Chicago, Feb. 17.—(AP)—N. L. Rogers and company, Peoria, today announced offering of $188,000 worth of 4 percent water and sewer revenue bonds of the City of Sullivan, Ill., maturing from 1937 to 1966.

create a "yardstick" measuring the proper cost of electricity to consumers.

There was instant reaction. The stock market had one of its biggest days in years, with 4,900,000 shares exchanging hands. Utility stocks wound up with losses ranging from fractions to three points, after an initial rise attributed to "wrong guessing."

In Florence, Alabama—a city vitally interested in TVA—there was dancing in the streets.

Many New Dealers were openly jubilant. President Roosevelt withheld public comment. Others, including Attorney General Cummings, said they were "delighted" and "gratified."

The decision was the New Deal's second victory in nine Supreme Court tests, the other being in the celebrated "Gold Clause" cases of a year ago.

Justice McReynolds, who bitterly declared "the constitution is gone" in dissenting from the gold decisions, objected to the TVA views of his eight colleagues as follows:

"If under the thin mask of disposing of property, the United States can enter the business of generating, transmitting and selling power as when and wherever some board may sign with the definite design to accomplish ends wholly beyond the sphere marked out for them by the constitution, an easy way has been found for breaking down the limitations heretofore supposed to guarantee protection against aggression."

Although concurring with the majority, four justices—Brandeis, Stone, Cardozo and Roberts—held in a separate opinion that the court should have dismissed for want of jurisdiction the suit brought by fourteen minority stockholders of the Alabama Power Company.

Hughes, speaking slowly and forcefully, limited the court's verdict to constitutional issues raised in a $1,150,000 contract for purchase by TVA of power company transmission lines, interchange of power and sale of surplus energy to the Alabama company.

"Crime Touring" Gunmen Narrowly Escape Capture

Filling Station Operator At Mulberry Grove Gives Them Stiff Battle

Greenville, Ill., Feb. 17.—(AP)—Springfield's two "crime touring" gunmen narrowly escaped capture today when they held up and robbed Ernest Howe, filling station proprietor at Mulberry Grove.

Getting away because Howe found two men more than he could handle, the desperadoes forced a youth to drive them to Springfield. Friskened, the youth continued on to Pana before he notified authorities.

The robbers, one of whom had a gun, drove up in an automobile and took $19 from the filling station cash register. They then ordered Howe to "shell out" his pockets.

Howe, instead, pulled out a tear gas gun and fired full into the face of the robber holding the revolver. The man fell to the floor and his companion fled. Howe, having seized the revolver in pursuit.

The filling station proprietor fired and the man fell. Thinking he had wounded him, Howe returned to the station just in time to see the other man disappear out of a window. He returned to the first man to find him gone, also.

Their automobile, however, remained. It was identified as having been stolen from Richard Andrus at Springfield last night.

The men appeared again several hours later at the farm of Griff Thacker, five miles north of Mulberry Grove. Thacker's son, Orville, agreed to drive them to Vandalia.

Six hours later, the boy called from Pana and told the men had forced him to drive on to Springfield, where they jumped from the car and fled.

ENDORSE BROOKS

Waukegan, Ill., Feb. 17.—(AP)—Benjamin H. Miller, chairman of the Lake county central committee, declared today that a majority of its 75 members had pledged support to Wavland Brooks as the Republican nominee for governor. Eleven of the 14-man executive committee, meeting Sunday, voted to endorse Brooks. The Central Committee as a whole will not choose a favorite, Miller said, although it voted endorsement, some weeks ago, of William J. Stratton, seeking nomination as secretary of state.

Just Individualism

The rugged individualism in which good Americans should still delight manifested itself in Jersey county the other day when a woman celebrated her 75th birthday by walking two miles in zero weather and catching a ride into Jerseyville. She did not put on this stunt as a birthday experiment; with her it was a practical matter.

She had been making a quilt and had exhausted her supply of cotton.
There was nothing to do but get some more cotton, and no way to get it except the one she chose. She got the cotton, and was no doubt surprised that in doing a simple job of work, she also made the day's news.

Some may argue that the woman might have caught her death of pneumonia, that the stunt was foolhardy, that there is no call for such acts in these days, and that one can buy quilts now anyway and don't have to spend hours making them. All of which may or may not be true, but is nevertheless beside the point.

We still insist that the exploit represents the sort of individualism that made this country what it is. Whether it is manifested in hitch-hiking to town at 75 makes little difference. It is simply an expression of that sturdy independence that goes after what it wants and gets it, without the passing of a new law or a loan from the government.

Intolerable Smoke

One day last week the city of St.
Louis was developed in a "pea soup"
fog of mist and smoke that did credit to London at its worst. Street lights were turned on at noon and traffic was slowed to a crawl. Eyes smarted and throats burned in the thick atmosphere.

A New Yorker visiting in the city sat in his hotel room and wrote a letter to one of the St. Louis newspapers, in which he reminded the city that no such smoke nuisance is any longer tolerated in his home city. He pointed out that modern devices that can be placed in chimneys where soft coal is used will prevent the belching of thick smoke.

He also reminded the people that living in such an atmosphere would hasten diseases such as cancer of the lungs and tuberculosis. Continued irritation of the breathing passages would be distinctly harmful. The rise of injurious gases in the thick air might easily cause death in a short time.

The cleanest cities in the country are to be found in the west. There is no smoke nuisance, even though there are numerous factories. Our great industrial centers of the east and middle west would do well to spend a few million dollars to get rid of their smoke. The New Yorker reminded St. Louis that its citizens are howling for a memorial at government expense, when the investment of far less in smoke eradication would do them a lot more good.

Maybe that was unkind, coming from a guest, but it was true, and any city that has a smoke nuisance cannot afford to keep it if it expects to have a reputation for healthfulness.

Alamo Anniversary

The period from Feb. 12 to Mar. 6 marks the centenary of the siege of the Alamo, which means as much to Texas as do Lexington and Concord to all America. The historic battle in which more than 2,400 Mexican soldiers under Gen. Santa Anna captured the Alamo and killed all of its 183 defenders, occurred on Mar. 6, 1836.

The preceding days were marked with pleas of William Barrett Travis in command of the handful of troops barring the Mexican advance, for reinforcements. He sent several messages to the Governor of Texas. He sent men through the lines to arouse the people of the new republic. But the Mexican advance on San Antonio continued, and Travis determined to hold the Alamo at all costs. Thirty-four additional men from a nearby settlement joined his force, which was all the answer he got to his pleas for help.

The Mexican forces surrounded the Alamo and attacked. They won, but they paid dearly for the victory. The sacrifice of the men in the Alamo did what Travis hoped—it aroused the Texans to the real peril of invasion.

At the battle of San Jacinto on Apr. 1, 1836, the invaders were routed.

In a real sense that Alamo marked a turning point in American history.
It meant that never again would Texas be subject to a foreign enemy, and it meant also that American vigilance would keep the Rio Grande impregnable against attack for all time.
There have been minor forays of course, but they have always been properly punished.

fangled ways.

homa.

Behind
The Scenes
In Washington

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal-Courier Washington Correspondent

Washington—Who owns all that 10 billion dollars' worth of gold, anyway?

It's in Treasury vaults in San Francisco, Denver, New York, and, soon,
at Fort Knox, Ky. But whose is it?
The question becomes pretty important in view of new demands that the currency be inflated by new money issued against the gold as backing.

One argument is that seven billions is already obligated to Federal Reserve banks, which hold the government's gold certificates as backing for their currency.

But they can't get the gold. It's in the Treasury vaults. Possession is nine points of the law.

Senator Henrik Shipstead is one of those who want to find out pretty definitely. He is backing a resolution calling on the attorney general to furnish the Senate with a formal opinion "as to the ownership of, and the encumbrances on," the gold stock, "with particular reference to the status of the gold taken from the Federal Reserve banks."

Another Mystery

Shipstead points out that several bills are pending which demand issue of currency against this gold, especially in relation to the bonus;
and that up to now there has been no official statement regarding just who owns the gold and why, and how.

He hasn't gotten any action yet. It's just another one of those mysteries like the disposition of the $2,000,000-000 "devaluation profit" fund with which the Treasury was to deal in foreign exchange to regulate the value of the dollar abroad.

Ten-Dollar Word Toss
Senator Vandenberg, "dark horse"

dency, can toss the king's English

The Lochinvars Have Come Out of the West!

about when he chooses, almost on a par with Ham Lewis. "The senator thinks that it is a matter of super-erogation to inquire about that?" he asked "Cotton Ed" Smith the other day during debate on a farm bill.

Smith rebuked him: "The senator should not use that sort of word in a farm bill."

Somebody Kidding?

Now comes the proposal to hand
the whole American labor movement, lock, stock, and barrel, over to the government, to be administered by a board of five army officers. The sponsor, William J. Rau, connected with the American Engineers' Corporation, is perfectly straight-faced about this effort to "save the unions from their worst enemies, graft and poor leadership."

A pamphlet, over the signature of an organization calling itself "American Union Men," is being distributed to members of Congress.

Some members get all in a froth and denounce "this effort to introduce Fascism." Others insist they think somebody is kidding again.

Jones Gets Big Hand

There was plenty of applause in the House when Representative Marvin Jones defended Secretary Wallace after the latter's indignant flaying of the supreme court decision that processing firms could keep the money collected from the public as processing taxes.

Jones drew handclapping when he said, "I believe that in the mind of every thinking man is the belief that . . . there is some money in the hands of certain people in this country that does not belong to them, and that an honest processor will refuse to be enriched by it if he has passed the tax cost on to the consumer."

Don't Want the Money

There was further applause when Jones showed that at least one group of processors is going to try not to profit by it. He read a letter from the Corn Industries Research Foundation, saying that 10 companies in the business of processing corn products "have taken a position of flat refusal to profit by the return of any processing taxes" and that "the industry would feel itself unjustly enriched unless it attempted, to the best of its ability, to restore the refunded taxes to the people who actually paid them."

A Noble Racket

Washington is a place where queer things come out from under logs, even in winter. Not so long ago a gentleman appeared at one of the leading hotels here, offering to peddle titles, such as Duke of Secony, to persons like John D. Rockefeller, at a handsome figure.

Freida Stilli and
Toledo Man Wed
Graduate of MacMurray in 1930 Becomes Bride of Charles Bradford

MacMurray college has received word of the marriage of Miss Freida Stilli, of Pana, Illinois, who graduated from the college with the class of '30 receiving a B.A. degree.

Miss Stilli became the bride of Charles O. Bradford, of Toledo, Ohio, Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock in the Second Presbyterian church at Taylor and Westminster Place in St.
Louis, with Dr. John McVoy performing the ceremony, the single ring service being used. The couple were unattended.

The announcement came as a surprise to the families and many friends of the couple. Mr. and Mrs. Bradford had planned to wed in March but Mr. Bradford, who is the assistant superintendent of the Toledo plant, was suddenly sent on an inspection tour of the southern and eastern territories by the American Crookings company, this necessitating an entire change in their plans, as the length of the trip will be from five to eight weeks.

Mrs. Bradford is the only daughter of Mrs. Minnie Stilli, of Pana, Illinois. She was educated in the Pana schools, graduating from the Pana Township High school in 1926, and later from MacMurray college. For the past five and one-half years she has taught in the Ball Township High school near Springfield, teaching English and Dramatics. Mrs.
Bradford is talented in Dramatic Arts, and has been an active worker in the Presbyterian church circles.

Mr. Bradford is the son of Mrs. C.
O. Bradford of Louisville, Kentucky.
He was graduated in chemical engineering from the University of Kentucky, and the J. B. Speed Scientific School in Louisville. He is a member of several honorary chemical engineering fraternities, and active in musical circles in Louisville.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradford will make their home in Toledo, Ohio after March.

Scarlet Fever Now
Epidemic In City;
Quarantine 53 Cases

Dr. Frederick Engelbach
Tells of Disease Spread;
Gives Regulations

During the last three months scarlet fever has become an epidemic in the city of Jacksonville. Three cases were reported to the health department in September and one in October. During November and December 40 cases were reported and during January and the first half of February 75 new cases were reported.
At the present time 53 cases of scarlet fever are in quarantine.

Probably many cases have occurred that have either not been reported to the health department or that have not been diagnosed as scarlet fever, either due to their mildness or to the fact that no physician has seen the cases.

Most of the cases have occurred in children, but there have been some adults involved. The majority of the cases have been relatively mild. However, there is no way of determining in advance when the mildness of the infection will cease, and the disease become much more severe. Everything possible should be done in order to check the epidemic as soon as possible.

Scarlet fever is a disease that enters the body through the respiratory tract and that is spread by way of the discharges of the respiratory tract. In order to control the disease it is essential that all persons, especially children, having colds,
avoid contact with other persons until the colds are again well. It is desirable that all cases of illness, and especially respiratory infections, be seen by a physician, repeatedly if necessary, in order that an accurate diagnosis can be made, and proper treatment instituted.

Some of the cases are difficult to recognize at the onset, and if there is any question as to diagnosis, the patient should be isolated until an accurate diagnosis can be made.

While most of the people involved have co-operated well in the carrying out of the quarantine, there are always some who feel that an injustice is being done when they are asked to obey the regulations. Undoubtedly some cases have not been reported or seen by physicians because the people did not want to be quarantined.

In order that the epidemic may be gotten under control it is desirable

"SOUL" SUBJECT IN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Soul" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 16.
The Golden Text was, "Unto thee,
O Lord, do I lift up my soul. Shew me thy ways, O Lord; teach me thy paths" (Psalm 25:1-4).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Then one of them, which was a lawyer, asked him a question, tempting him, and saying, Master, which is the great commandment in the law? Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind.
This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself" (Matthew 22:35-39).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Dost thou love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind? This command includes much, even the surrender of all merely material sensation, affection, and worship. This is the Ed Dorado of Christianity" (p. 9).

A LIGHT SMOKE
OF RICH, RIPE-BODIED TOBACCO

For twenty-five years the research staff of The American Tobacco Company has worked steadily to produce a measurably finer cigarette—namely, a cigarette having a minimum of volatile components, with an improved richness of taste—"A LIGHT SMOKE."

We believe that Lucky Strike Cigarettes embody a number of genuinely basic improvements, and that all these improvements combine to produce a superior cigarette—a modern cigarette, a cigarette made of rich, ripe-bodied tobaccos—A Light Smoke.

Luckies are less acid

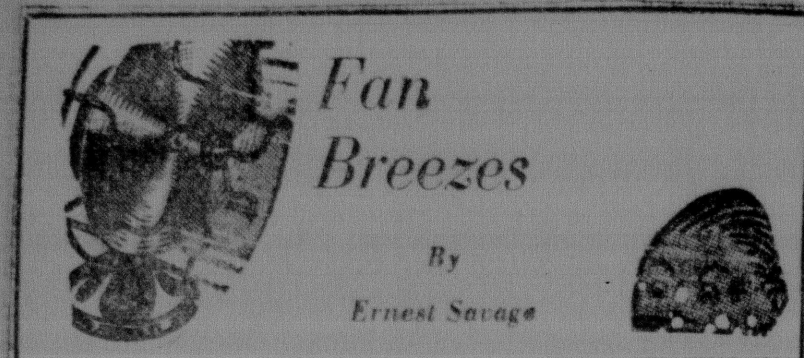

Recent chemical tests show that other popular brands have an excess of acidity over Lucky Strike of from 53% to 100%.

Freddie Vehmmer, the curly haired blonde, stocky boy who played on Illinois School for the Deaf football and died Thursday after an emergency operation, according to word received here by Coach S. Robey Burns.

Vehmmer was one of the boys who played on some of Burns' greatest teams in recent years. He was buried Saturday in Freeport, Illinois, his home town.

Vehmmer played guard on both football and basketball teams and also was on the track team.

Tournament gossip is floating around with the result that we hear Jacksonville high has put in the mails feelers regarding the feasibility of a county tournament next year. It is understood that Murrayville, Franklin and Waverly are all in a receptive mood.

The big problem now is to find some way to get out in a position to compete. There is a rule in the I. H. S. A. which prevents parochial schools from competing against schools supported by public taxation in tournaments. It is possible that a move will be launched at the next high school conference to legalize their competition in invitational tournaments. Such a step will have the approval of the Catholic High School regulatory body.

And for some season or other, Penwick, the defending downtown Catholic high school champions, were omitted from the parishes for this year.

7:10 p. m.—Merchants vs C. C. C.
8:50 p. m.—Swifts vs Smiths.

Two teams which have been able to weather the storm of basketball tossed in the Y. M. C. A. basketball league, will hook up tonight in what promises to be the feature of the season. They are the Smith Indies and the Swifts Packers, and the stake will be the second half championship.

The two teams have not met previously this season. A victory for the Indies will mean a second half championship without a dispute, whereas if the Packers win, they have a postponed game with the Chevrolests to play before making the final claim.

Rivalry between the two teams is intense. Two games will precede the battle which has a championship complexion with the Merchants and the C. C. C. quintet tangle in the first game, and the Chevrolests and Lynnville in the second tilt.

There is no admission charge for any of the games, which are to be played in the David Prince gymnasium.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sick and the world looks pink.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A men bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes three good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making life flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. See.

Common Sense about HEADACHE

Usually a headache is due to high nerve tension. At such times all you need is a little Capadine. This remedy is very effective because it quickly soothes tense nerves and eases pain.

Of course headaches may come from more serious causes. Sometimes it may be an abscessed tooth, or some underlying cause which only your family physician can discover. Meanwhile, avoid suffering as much as you can by using Capadine.

Capadine's action is unusually quick because it is liquid and its ingredients are already dissolved. No narcotics.

Woman Stricken in Church Dies Before Physician Arrives

Mrs. Lena Mitchell Passes Away During Services; Conduct Inquest

Stricken unexpectedly while attending services at the M. C. E. church Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Lena Mitchell, 50, died before a physician could be summoned.

Mrs. Mitchell collapsed in her seat at the church a short time after she fell on the ice near the Weibach railroad tracks while going to the church. Whether death was due to natural causes or to an injury was not determined prior to the coroner's inquest.

The deceased was born at Eolia, Mo., January 3, 1885, a daughter of Robert and Fannie Lewis Douglas, and had been a resident of Jacksonville 30 years. She was united in marriage Dec. 8, 1904, with Warren Mitchell of Eolia.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell resided at 733 East Chicago avenue. In addition to her husband, Mrs. Mitchell leaves her mother, Mrs. Fannie Douglas, and two brothers, William Douglas and Frederick Douglas.

The deceased was a member of Mt. Emory Baptist church. Funeral services Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in charge of Rev. T. A. Spaulding at the Mt. Emory Baptist church will be held with interment in Jacksonville cemetery. The body will be taken to the residence this afternoon.

Coroner James Campbell conducted the inquest at 10 o'clock yesterday morning at the Gilman funeral home. The jury decided that the woman's death was caused by apoplexy induced by a fall on the ice at her home previously.

The jury consisted of W. W. Fields, Arthur Moore, G. H. Young, George Bohrer, Willie Allen and T. H. Robinson.

FIREMEN ANSWER 3 ALARMS IN 2 HOURS

Firemen were called out three times yesterday in less than two hours. About 11:30 o'clock they made the first run to a residence on West Railroad street. The second run occurred at 12:50 o'clock when the truck was called to the residence of F. A. Boston, 133 Pine street, on account of a small roof fire.

Then at 1:20 o'clock in the afternoon the firemen were called to the home of James Cully, 1075 North Fayette street, where sparks from the chimney had set fire to the roof. The damage was slight.

Dr. A. C. Bolle Home At Arenzville Is Destroyed By Fire

Residence Burns In Short Time Monday Morning; Valued At $5,000

Arenzville—The two-story frame residence occupied by Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Bolle and daughter was destroyed by fire here yesterday morning. The fire was discovered about 10 o'clock when someone in the street saw a blaze on the roof and turned in the alarm. When the firemen reached the scene, the roof was burning fiercely, and the flames spread rapidly downward through the building.

Neighbors and citizens succeeded in saving most of the household goods on the first floor, but the furnishings on the second floor were destroyed. Members of the family left the home when the alarm was spread. Rescuers of the home contents worked until the roof began to fall in, and the structure became dangerous.

Efforts were then directed to saving the Methodist church, next door to the Bolle home. The church did not catch fire, but the heat caused the windows to expand and led to some damage. The fire burned rapidly, fanned by a bitter wind, and the Bolle home was in ashes in little more than an hour.

The dwelling, a large residence of eight or ten rooms, was owned by J. A. Weeks. The house and contents were valued at $5,000. The loss is covered by insurance. The furnishings rescued from the burning home were taken to the homes of neighbors for temporary storage.

The blaze is believed to have started from a defective flue. In the past few years this residence has been twice threatened by fire. Each time the blaze was extinguished with only slight damage to the roof. But the third time proved too much, and yesterday the building was totally destroyed.

Mrs. Jennie E. Franz Passes Away Sunday

Local Woman Expires After Long Illness; Native of Mason County

Mrs. Jennie E. Franz passed away at 5:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at Our Saviour's hospital. She had been in failing health for the past year and a half, but her condition became serious only ten days ago.

She had been a resident of this city 56 years. The family home is at 410 North Fayette street. Jennie was born in Mason county near Chandlerville Dec. 7, 1877, a daughter of James and Annie Franz. She was married to Robert Franz in October, 1878. He preceded her in death in 1900. She is survived by three children, Carl W., Harry F., and Bessie A. Franz, all residing at home. She leaves also one sister, Mrs. Mattie Abbott of Nebraska.

She was a kind and loving mother, and will be greatly missed by all who knew her. She was a member of State Street Presbyterian church. The remains were removed to the Gilman funeral home, but returned to the residence at 410 North Fayette street.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Gilman funeral home in charge of Rev. Harry Luthian. The body will be taken to the funeral home an hour before the services.

GRACE CHURCH DOINGS

Those persons who braved the wintry blasts on Sunday were well repaid for their efforts. Interesting worshipful programs featured each service.

The class of high school boys taught by Mr. Pinke had charge of the devotional period of the Sunday school with Mr. Murphy presiding. Member of Scout Troop Seven had decorated the room and gave a very constructive demonstration. The school attendance was 269 and the offering $674.

At the morning service Dr. Havighurst used as a sermon theme "Washington, the Patriot and the Christian." In the evening Dean Clara B. Williams presented in a very interesting manner a sermon address upon "The Life and Work of Henry Van Dyke."

The second division of the Woman's Home Missionary society will be entertained in the home of Miss Ethel Ross, 226 Pine street, on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Bearers will have a pot-luck supper at the home of Mary Francis Gaumer, 1335 Mound avenue. Following the supper there will be a camp-fire meeting.

Regular meeting of the Boy Scout troop seven will be held on Tuesday evening. A very large crowd met last week and enjoyed the program.

To Hold Father, Son Banquet In Scott County Thursday

Affair To Be Held At Winchester Baptist Church; Other News Notes

Circuit Judge Walter W. Wright of Jacksonville will be the principal speaker on a program including a number of toasts and musical numbers. The banquet is sponsored by the two Sunday school classes of the Baptist church which are taught by Mr. and Mrs. Oren Robertson and is meant to be a community wide affair. The recently formed Big Brothers organization of Scott county is co-operating with the sponsors in an effort to make the banquet available to all boys of the community.

Hold Rites for Mrs. North. Funeral services for Mrs. Warren L. North, who passed away Saturday morning, were held at the Baptist church in Winchester at 2 o'clock this afternoon with Rev. A. J. Chapman, pastor of the M. E. church, officiating and assisted by Rev. F. V. Wright. The casket bearers were: Charles Coultas, Earl C. Nelson, Charles Arnold, Smith Barnett, Harold Parnayhough and Luther Coultas. Those in charge of the flowers were Mrs. Mamie Potter, Mrs. Smith Barnett, Mrs. Earl C. Nelson, Mrs. Tom Coultas, Mrs. Charles Coultas and Miss Purdie Butzack. Musical numbers included a vocal solo by Miss Belmy Leach and vocal duet by Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Smith, accompanied by Mrs. Nora Bean. Interment was in the Winchester cemetery.

Hold Coultas Rites. The last rites for Charles Coultas, who passed away Saturday afternoon, were held at the Riggs church at 10 o'clock this morning with Rev. Hegeas officiating. Pall bearers were: Roy Coultas, Glenn Coultas, Louis Rutherford, John Green, David Welch and Wm. McCullough. Miss Almarie Coultas, Miss Betty Jane Coultas, Miss Elizabeth Eves and Miss Velma Eves were in charge of the flowers. Music was furnished by the choir of the Riggs church. Burial was in the Kincaid cemetery.

News Notes. Miss Irene Nieman, teacher of the 4th grade in the Winchester public school, has resigned her position and accepted employment under civil service in Washington, D. C. Mrs. Oscar Glossop, substitute teacher for the school, is taking Miss Nieman's place at present.

Frank Spahn, janitor at the Winchester grade school who has been ill, resumed his duties at the school today.

Tom Danner, student at Illinois College in Jacksonville, was a week end visitor with his parents.

R. M. Riggs was a professional visitor in Jacksonville today.

Centenary Church Notes

The special collection for coal has not been as large as it was hoped it would be. Members and friends of Centenary who have not made a gift to this fund are asked to do so. This will be greatly appreciated by those who plan for funds to meet the budget.

The general collections for the church have been greatly lessened by the extreme cold weather. Appeal is made to members to pay their pledges so that current expenses can be met by the members and those interested in her great work.

Another cold Sunday interfered with attendance. The morning worship was held in the Sunday school room to save coal and for the comfort of those attending.

It proved a helpful hour of worship. The music was again an attractive part of the service. Miss Mardelle Smith sang as a solo, "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings," by Liddle, with fine appeal. The choir under the direction of Miss Lola Whitlock gave a beautiful rendition of "Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem" by Clare.

Rev. Blair spoke on "What Are You Getting Out of Religion?" 2 Tim 1-7, "For God hath not given us the spirit of fear, but of power and of love and a sound mind."

Wednesday 7:30 p. m. Spiritual Enrichment Service. This mid week service is well worth the time given to it. Plan to be present.

5 Persons Killed In Capital-Labor Crisis In Mexico

Pacific Coast Port Of Mazatlan Placed Under Military Control

By Clark Lee.

Associated Press Foreign Staff. Mexico City, Feb. 17.—(P)—The Pacific coast port of Mazatlan was placed under military control today after a clash between police and strikers in which five persons were killed, the latest outbreak in Mexico's unsettled capital-labor crisis.

Police fired on strikers when they attempted to attack a group of strike-breakers going to work in a Mazatlan slaughterhouse. Five strikers were killed and five wounded.

Blaming members of the city council for the shooting, labor organizations paraded to the Municipal Palace, demanding the resignations of the council and threatening a general strike in all industries.

While his labor reform measure, giving increased privileges to workers, was placed before congress here, President Lazaro Cardenas in an address to workers at Ciudad Guerrero, Tamaulipas state, asserted, "there is no religious persecution in Mexico."

"The government is insisting on the fulfillment of existing laws," he said, "and as a result enemies of socialistic education are carrying on a bitter campaign against the government."

This Cardenas, without referring to it specifically, replied to the Catholic church's recent letter to prelates of other nations asserting laws in this country constitute "persecution."

With only three days left to avert a strike called for Thursday by workers of the Southern Pacific Railway or Mexico, representatives of the company and the workers continued negotiations. No statement was issued but it was reported the conference are still far from an agreement.

Death Sentences Of 3 Negroes Set Aside By Court

Rack And Torture Chamber No Substitute For Witness Stand

By James W. Douthat. Associated Press Staff Writer. Washington, Feb. 17.—(P)—Asserting that the rack and torture chamber may not be substituted for the witness stand, the supreme court today set aside the death sentences imposed on three Mississippi negroes for murder.

Almost simultaneously the high court refused to interfere with penalty sentences given three men—Richard Galatas, Herbert Farmer and Frank Mulloy—for conspiracy in connection with the 1933 Kansas City massacre involving an attempt to free Frank Nash, a convict from police and federal agents.

Chief Justice Hughes delivered the unanimous opinion granting the negroes a new trial—if the case is prosecuted further. He declared:

"It would be difficult to conceive of methods more revolting to the sense of justice than those taken to procure the confessions of these petitioners."

He referred to testimony that confessions were obtained by hanging one of the negroes from a tree for a time and whipping the others while naked with a rubber strap with buckles on it. A deputy sheriff was alleged to have been present both times, with two other officers present at the whippings.

The supreme court has twice granted new trial to negroes condemned to die in the Scottsboro, Alabama, attack case.

Wheat Market
Rules Lower

By John P. Boughan,
Chicago, Feb. 17.—(P)—Sympathizing to a noticeable extent with stock market break that followed the United States Supreme Court TVE decision, wheat ruled lower today.

A maximum setback of 1 1/2 cents a bushel for wheat took place, notwithstanding that a new cold wave was moving into the winter crop belt. Contributing to wheat price weakness came word that European demand for shipments from Canada was practically zero, although Canadian shippers had reduced their asking figures.

Wheat closed nervous, 1-1/2 under Saturday's finish, May 97 1/4, corn unchanged to 1/2 higher, May 61 1/2, oats 1-1/2 off, and provisions unchanged to 7 cents down.

Something of a rally in wheat values at the last was associated with considerable buying on the part of domestic millers. A liberal decrease of 1976,000 bushels in the United States wheat visible supply served also as a help at this stage. During most of the day, however, wheat was heading unchecked toward a lower level of prices, influenced partly by 5,000,000 bushels increase of the amount of wheat afloat for importing countries.

Utility Stocks
Take Nosedive

By Frank Mac Millen
New York, Feb. 17.—(P)—Traders rushed in from the stock market sidelines today, scooped up utilities and then dumped them as the reading of the supreme court's TVA decision proceeded.

Brokers reported buyers tumbled over each other to get utility shares on the assumption that the decision would put new life into power issues long neglected. Turnover at 4,722,048 shares was the heaviest since Feb. 5, 1934.

As over-eager Wall Streeters jumped abroad the utility bandwagon, the ticker-tape tagged some five minutes behind the trading. Blocks of 1,000 to 5,000 shares changed hands at gains of up to 3 points.

As it became clear to the trading community that the supreme court held that TVA could dispose of surplus power produced at Wilson Dam at Muscle Shoals, utilities were pitched overboard.

Power stocks which had scored gains of around 3 points were jostled so hard that at the close they were losers of as much.

Throughout the session the rest of the market was under the sway of the utilities. Measured by the Associated Press average of 60 stocks, the market declined 5/8 of a point to 61 1/2.

Bonds were irregular in the corporate sector, firm in the government division.

What the net effect of the TVA decision would be leading utility executives themselves were not prepared to say.

Although the American Iron and Steel Institute reported that operations this week would be at 51.7 per cent of capacity, a drop of 3 of 1 per cent from last week, other news from the steel front was cheerful.

Hog Prices Are
10 Cents Lower

Chicago, Feb. 17.—(P)—Reports from widely scattered sections of the livestock belt that farmers feared losses in meat animals because of prolonged cold and heavy snows fell flat as an influence in the livestock trade today.

On the contrary, packers who faced continued shortage of supplies because of crippled transportation facilities, were not disposed to bid the market up for the master runs brought in here. Receipts of all classes were well below advance estimates, though not as small as a week ago by far, but only in the case of cattle suitable for shipping did the market show any buoyancy.

A private report from Minneapolis said that with temperatures running as low as 50 below in parts of western North Dakota it is believed losses of livestock will be serious. Drifting snow is adding to the difficulty of feeding and resistance of herds has been reduced because of the cold. Another advice said farmers in northwest Ohio are reporting heavy losses in the already subnormal population of pigs.

Hog prices were steady to 10 cents lower. The early top was $11.10 but in late dealings the best price was $11. Receipts totaled 12,000. Better grade medium weight and weighty steers were strong to shippers but lower grades of cattle closed weak to 25 cents off. The practical top on heavy steers was $11.25 but prime long yearlings topped at $13. Fat lambs closed 25 to 35 cents below Friday's average. The top was $10.15.

Dean Williams Talks At Grace Church on VanDyke's Artistry

Gives Interesting Picture of Writer and Philosopher: Quotes Writings

Icy streets and cold weather cut down the attendance somewhat for the special address Sunday night at Grace M. E. church on Henry Van Dyke by Dean Clara B. Williams of Illinois College. However, those who were present were especially enthusiastic in their high appreciation of the splendid address. Miss Williams evinced real artistry in the handling of her theme.

She based a portion of her discussion on a recent biography by the son, Tertius Van Dyke but more on the writings of Van Dyke himself, who lived, preached and wrote in prose and in verse—one gospel, that of a faith that extends beyond the intellect of man and that prompts men to strive for a loftier way of living.

Miss Williams shared excerpts from poems, essays and sermons, read to illustrate the charm, the philosophy and the depth of religion of this beautiful character whose power of personality was felt in many countries. "Had Henry Van Dyke done nothing more than leave for us the immortal story 'The Other Wise Man,' he would be worthy of our study," said the speaker. This exquisite story of love and service has been translated into many languages, including French, German, Armenian, and

Turkish, and has made him loved the world over.

Van Dyke as student, as comrade on a fishing excursion, as minister of the Brick Presbyterian church in New York as Professor of English Literature at Princeton University, as writer, as lecturer in Paris or in some other center, as ambassador to The Netherlands saw the task before him as a joyous adventure. He lived strenuously, purposely, joyously.

Miss Williams included in her readings: "God of the Open Air, Who Will Walk a Mile With Me, America for Me, The Three Best Things."

"The world has need of men today like Van Dyke—fearless, gracious, Godly men, who are dreamers and doers."

Next Sunday night in this interesting and instructive series on "Outstanding Present Day Christian Leaders" the special theme will be "The Life and Work of Albert Schweitzer." The sermon address will be given by Dr. Annabel Newton, head of the English Department at MacMurray college.

Young Holdup Man Sentenced to Prison

Logan Buchanan of Scott County Pleads Guilty to Indictment

Winchester—Logan Buchanan, 19 year old holdup man and jailbreaker, entered a plea of guilty to robbery charges when arraigned before Judge W. W. Wright in circuit court here yesterday morning. He was sentenced to the Southern Illinois Penitentiary until fully discharged by law.

The youth, who broke jail here last summer and was captured only recently at Fargo, N. D., was indicted by the October grand jury for robbery while armed. He was accused of holding up and robbing Mrs. Mattie Ross at her restaurant on the night of July 30 last year.

It was on August 25 that Buchanan made a successful dash from jail and disappeared in the timber west of Winchester. He was tracked for miles by members of the sheriff's force, but the trail faded.

Last week he tried to enlist in the navy at Fargo, N. D., and his evasion of certain questions aroused suspicion. He was turned over to police after Scott county authorities wired to Fargo to have him held.

POLICE SEARCH FOR STOLEN AUTOMOBILE

Police yesterday were searching for a 1930 model Ford car, the property of C. C. Proffitt, 1605 Mound avenue, which was stolen from the business district Sunday evening. The car disappeared about 8:40 o'clock from East State street. It was equipped with a radio and the tank was full of gas when stolen.

CRUISE TO NOWHERE

Deck Morgan
© 1925 NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JANE WESTON feels her dreams have come true when she sits out on a three weeks' ocean cruise. She received her ticket in place of the entry due her when the travel magazine employing her as a typist suspended publication. One board Jane meets handsome DIRK STROM who has been skiing at Lake Placid. He introduces her to his friend, SNOWSHOES, a detective. Snowshoes tells them that NORA LANE, famous actress, is on board. Also Lane owns the famous Kaktus diamond, and it is known that she usually has it with her. The detective, looking over the crowd, says, "It looks as though a new ERIC war has sent the rats all scuttling to this ship."

Dirk takes Jane to go to the dance that night but she declines, she does not want him to think she is too interested in him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER V

DIRK STROM folded his expensive tweeds and hung them up carefully on hangers in a closet. He went to his traveling bag and took out the new white linen for the tropical phase of this cruise.

"How can I fill up a three-room suite with the contents of one bag?" he said, half-aloud, and laughed at himself in the mirror. "Here I am on a de luxe cruise in the most expensive suite," he mused. "It's more than a bride's suite. The bellhop said it was the royal suite. The King of Siam used it on his last transatlantic crossing. Who'd ever have thought it! One year ago today I was marooned out in the High Sierras, and had never seen a ship. Nor a street car," he added, smiling. "Nor a building higher than the three-story saloon in Truckee."

Dirk got out his safety razor and took it inside the green-tiled bathroom, intending to shave before dinner. He had two hours to kill before 8 o'clock.

Then he took a silver trophy from his bag, and placed it on view on a stand in the big sitting room. He paused to admire it. It was the figure of a ski jumper poised in a mad flight through the air—reminds of Dirk's victory in a ski jumping competition at Lake Placid.

Dirk went back into the bedroom and began to undress. When he stood by the bed in shorts and athletic, he ran a hand in his pants pockets and began to count his money, finding it down on the covers. "Five dollars and sixty-two cents!" he said, aloud.

Dirk Strom had spent 20 years in an isolated mining town high up in the Sierras of California, self-educated in arithmetic as well as in skiing. With back there in the eighties his father, a Norwegian, had been imported as they are imported into the Andes today—for the task of carrying the mail to isolated mining camps on skis.

THROUGHOUT the nine months of isolation in the high Sierras, skis were the only practicable means of running swiftly over the ground from post to post. Old Lars had frozen to death in the blizzard of 1927, and his wife, a sturdy Norwegian, had taken his job until Dirk was old enough to become the pack animal and postman on the hazardous, sky-high route.

Then one day a celebrated skier had seen him jumping on the rude hill at Truckee, and, observing his style and terrific dis-

It was the man who had been following Dirk and Jane earlier. Instinctively Dirk barred the entrance.

ance leaps, had sent him on an exhibition tour of the Rockies, the middlewest and the east with all expenses paid.

Now, on board the S. S. Oceanic, Dirk sat down in a chair and began to massage the tendons in a leg.

He had injured the leg in a fall on his skis at Lake Placid and it had cost him a coveted place on the American Olympic team this year. A little girl of five had run out on the jumping hill, in the path of his downward flight on skis. He had landed safely and was speeding straight toward the child at 60 or 70 miles an hour when he took the spill to avoid hurting her. He had rolled over and over and landed against a post.

With an injured leg he couldn't make the trip to Europe with the Olympic squad, and it was a bitter disappointment. The father of the child whose life he had saved had showered wealth in tokens on Dirk, all of which he refused except the one—a letter to a prominent ski manufacturer who accepted Dirk's new design for skis and gave him a job in a hickory sawmill down south where all the skis came from.

But when the doctor said it'd be a wise thing for Dirk to do a lot of sitting down and basking his leg in the sun, he accepted this offer of a cruise under a tropic sun.

Now, as he went into the bathroom to shave, Dirk smiled at his lone suitcase in the middle of this royal suite. The child's grateful father had ordered the best! Even the expensive tweeds and white linens had been part of the wealthy man's idea of a cruise; they had been forced on him.

Dirk put his razor away, and came out into the bedroom to dress. But when he had finished he picked out a small slab of hickory from his suitcase and began to whittle on it. It looked like a small model of a ski—which it undoubtedly was. He was busily engaged in the work he liked most in the world when a knock came at the door.

"Hello?" Dirk said, low, to himself. "Who can this be?"

When he opened the door a man with sleek black hair stood outside. Dirk saw his furtive glance about the suite, and noted the shifty expression in his eyes. It was the man who had been following him and Jane earlier.

INSTINCTIVELY Dirk let his frame bar entrance. "Yes?" he said.

Even as the intruder spoke his eyes ceaselessly roved about objects in the suite, taking in every thing.

"I—I beg your pardon," he said, bowing with an exaggerated gesture of politeness. "I guess I made a mistake." He stepped back and looked at the number on the door. "Suite AA. That was a bum steer the steward gave me. I was looking for a—lady."

Dirk watched him narrowly; he had never seen such tireless, roving eyes in a human being.

"Yes, I suppose you made a mistake."

"Don't mind me. I'm not a forward guy. Name's Mannie Jackson. There's a friendly little game going on downstairs. Craps—they got it stacked up like a mint in there. But I don't like the noise. I came on this cruise to get a little shut-eye. Wouldn't care to have a drink on me at the bar before dinner? Aren't you lonely up here?"

Dirk hesitated. It all sounded harmless enough. And it was a pretty dull prospect—sitting around whittling on a stick when there might be

Alexander Man Severely Hurt In Auto Mishap

William Colwell In Hospital; Driver Of Automobile Held In Jail

William Colwell of Alexander is a patient at Our Saviour's hospital suffering from injuries received in an automobile accident at Alexander yesterday afternoon and H. F. Glover, Hannibal, Mo. driver of the car which is said to have struck Colwell, is held in the Morgan county jail. Glover's wife and his brother-in-law, Burel Daniels, also of Hannibal, are being held by Sheriff Kenneth Woods.

It is said Colwell was struck by an automobile and that the driver left Alexander without stopping to ascertain the injuries of the victim. The Glover and Daniel were stopped at the Illinois river when the bridge was raised to halt their passage.

The accident occurred on the hard road near the Alexander Catholic church, when the automobile struck Colwell, who was walking near the highway. Residents of Alexander said the driver of the machine stopped his car after the accident, but later left without learning how badly Colwell was hurt.

Sheriff Kenneth Woods was notified and posted deputies to be on the lookout for the car, but did not succeed in sighting the automobile. Sheriff Harry Gidney of Winchester was also notified and he ordered a search in the Florence bridge raised to stop traffic. Sheriff Gidney and Deputy Sheriff O'Brien then drove to the bridge and found a car said to be the description of the machine, a Buick coupe, which struck Colwell.

Sheriff Woods and deputies then went to Winchester and returned with the three persons from Hannibal. They denied any knowledge of the accident, the driver telling the officers if his machine hit anyone he was not aware of it.

Colwell was brought to the hospital here and is suffering from shock and an injury to his chest. Dr. F. A. Norris attended him, but stated last night it was impossible to determine the extent of his injuries. X-ray pictures will be taken today.

Pension Board Is Named In Greene

Judge Mehrhoff To Receive Applications; Other Greene News

Carrollton, Ill., Feb. 17.—Greene County Judge L. A. Mehrhoff announced during the past week that until the newly selected county welfare board is organized, blank applications for old-age pensions may be had at his office. The judge has named the members of the welfare board to handle the applications. Members of the Greene county board named are Mrs. Gertrude Richards of Kane, Republican; Martin Kaffer of Carrollton, and Claude Martin of Roodhouse, Democrats.

At a meeting of the Standard Bearers at the home of Miss Martha March Friday afternoon with thirteen members present, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Miss Hazel Brannon; vice-president, Miss Martha March; secretary, Miss Geraldine Bowman; adviser and acting treasurer, Mrs. L. A. Dickson. Plans were completed at this meeting for a ten act show to be staged in the near future.

Miss Helen Koster was hostess Friday night to the members of her tournament pinocle club with cards and luncheon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Geers. Next Tuesday evening the members of the club will be entertained by Mrs. Mary Hill at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Robinson arrived here Saturday by motor from Indianapolis and visited with Mrs. Robinson's mother, Mrs. Sophia Becker who is quite ill at the home of her son, Lawrence Becker near Berdan.

Miss Allie Norton returned home Thursday after a three week visit with Mrs. Laura Tunnell, Rockbridge. Miss Ruth Hunter of Springfield, a former member of the Carrollton High school faculty, visited over the weekend here with friends.

The funeral knell has gotten to be almost a daily event in Carrollton during the first half of February and present indications are that the death rate for the month is going to be far above the average. Saturday's knell at 2:30 p. m. told of the services for Mrs. Noah Smith Listes at the local Christian church. Rev. T. Roady of Kane officiated. The bearers were: William Ryan, Albert Cole, James Spencer, Henry Shaw, Clarence Pender and Fred Smith. The burial was made in Carter cemetery.

Thus far this year the death rate has been away over normal. There is an unusually high number of sick cases in this city, a large number of them pneumonia, the extreme cold weather has caused much illness and as many cases are very critical, the rate of deaths will probably be high for the month.

Scarlet fever which had quite a number of cases here a week or two ago, has been checked considerably and caused no deaths in Carrollton but pneumonia is prevalent and as it is generally so fatal and quick acting that all are warned to try to check any cold no matter how light before the infection reaches the bronchial or lobar regions.

J. H. S. STUDENTS PLAN NON-DECISION PRACTICE DEBATE

Another in the series of non-decision practice debates will be held at the local high school this afternoon when the Winchester affirmative meets the J. H. S. negative on the state medicine question. Last Tuesday, the Crimson affirmative debated at Winchester before the school assembly. Today's contest will not be an assembly debate, however. Coach Harold Gibson announced yesterday that Ralph Dunlap, Barbara Butler and Bill Clark would represent Jacksonville. The final personnel of either of the varsity teams has not been stated as yet by Mr. Gibson, but that announcement is expected in the near future.

Tomorrow, the J. H. S. affirmative and negative will go to Pittsfield for a double debate and Friday, both teams will go to Pekin to meet the strong team of the Pekin High school. The local affirmative will debate the Pekin negative in a decisional contest before the school assembly. Later on, the Pekin affirmative will come to Jacksonville for a similar engagement with the Crimson negative.

New Signals On Wabash Crossing Ready After Test

Flagman At N. Main Intersection Will Continue Day Work

The new electric signal flashes installed on the Wabash railroad crossings at North Main street and North Clay avenue, were tested out yesterday afternoon and worked perfectly. M. M. Knight, foreman of the signal corps which installed the equipment, was in charge of the tests.

A crew of seven men have been in Jacksonville for the past five weeks placing the equipment into place. The state of Illinois purchases the equipment and pays the cost of installation but the railroad will be responsible for maintenance after tests are made and the equipment approved by the state authorities.

When a train approaches from the east and enters the block just west of the lower at Illinois avenue, the signal lights at Clay avenue begin to flash and will continue flashing as long as and will continue flashing as long as the train is in that zone. When the westbound train passes Clay avenue and Main street signals will start "flinking" and will continue the signals until the train passes the Wabash passenger station.

The North Main street flashes will start working when an eastbound train enters the block at the east end of the Wabash passenger station. The Clay avenue signals will start working when an east bound train passes Main street.

Two standards have been erected at each street crossing one on each side of the railroad tracks. Each standard contains four lights, two on the north side and two on the south. A motorist or pedestrian approaching the track when a train is in the danger zone, will see four lights flashing, two on the east side of the street and two on the west side of the street.

The new equipment will probably prevent accidents at the railroad crossings providing motorists and pedestrian take heed to the warning signals. The crossing flagman at North Main street will continue his work during the day.

Foreman Knight's crew is composed of the following men, all of the local building. It was impossible to break snow paths. On driving a team thru the snow the track behind it would be almost immediately obliterated by the wind. From College Hill to the village a path was at least obtained only by driving in the same track until the snow was rounded up like a turnpike. The newness of the country greatly increased the hardships of that winter. Our fuel was yet in the forest, and even much of our food supply remained still in the fields covered by the "Deep Snow". The population around us was almost wholly from the south and had no conception of such a winter. They were well nigh paralyzed by the task imposed upon them. No morning dawned upon us for many days when the thermometer registered less than twelve degrees below zero. For three weeks it scarcely thawed even on the sunny side of the house. The biting wind was incessant. For nine weeks this snow covered the ground for hundreds of miles in every direction. What a welcome visitor was returning spring.

The diary of William Sewal contains a rare record of the "Deep Snow." December 24, 1830. Snowed considerable. Dec. 25, Christmas, pleasant day. December 29, snowed most of the day. There is now about two feet of snow on the ground. Dec. 31, Cold and disagreeable. Difficult in passing about in consequence of deep snow. Jan. 1, 1831. These days have been very cold and stormy. Jan. 7, There is now 21 to 22 feet of snow on the level of the earth. Jan. 8, Wood scarce and high in town. Jan. 15, Cold. Snow storm from the north and west. Damp snow. Jan. 22, This is the coldest day yet experienced, 18 degrees below zero. Jan. 31, Snow storm. High wind from N. E. About 8 to 10 inches of snow fell. Feb. 3, Clear and gusty wind. Snow drifting and very cold. Thermometer at zero at sunset. Feb. 4, Cold and blustery. This day is supposed to be the coldest yet experienced. The roads are very much blocked and impassable. Feb. 11, Weather has moderated. Feb. 12, John C. Robinson attended the community sale at Murrayville Monday.

"Deep Snow" of 1830 is Landmark in Ill. History

EDITOR'S NOTE.—The following story about the "Deep Snow" of 1830 and 1831 was prepared for the Journal and Courier by Frank J. Heintz at the solicitation of the newspapers.

The "Deep Snow" is a landmark in the pioneer history of Illinois. For many years thereafter persons who were here during the snow were called "Snow Birds." For years, at old settlers' meetings much was said about the "Deep Snow" and many were the exaggerations and fairy tales retailed about it.

Snow commenced falling about Christmas, 1830, and continued off and on until April 16, 1831. Julian Monson, Sturtevant, wrote, "Mr. Beecher did not remain in Vandalla but returned during the Christmas holidays."

"Simultaneously with the commencement of his journey occurred the historic 'Deep Snow,' and he found himself weather-bound at Hillsboro. He was very anxious to return home at once, but such a journey seemed impossible. Snow covered the entire country to the depth of at least three feet on the level. The storm ended in rain, freezing as it fell, formed a coat of ice not quite strong enough to bear a man's weight. On the top of this there fell a few inches of fine snow, as light as ashes. When the storm ceased and the bright sun beamed down upon the landscape a fierce north-west wind arose, and for weeks swept over the prairies, filling the air with drifting snow so blinding and choking in its effect that it seemed impossible for a man to make headway against it. In this level country, with no forests and no fences, there were no sheltered spots, and the drifting continued until the surface was softened by the sun, or till the wind ceased.

Effects of Storm.

"Mr. Beecher found us contending with the effects of the storm upon our rude, inadequate log house. The blast had forced the drifting snow thru every crevice and rendered the house utterly untenable. We were obliged to take shelter for the remainder of the winter in some of the dark and imperfectly finished rooms of the college building. It was impossible to break snow paths. On driving a team thru the snow the track behind it would be almost immediately obliterated by the wind. From College Hill to the village a path was at least obtained only by driving in the same track until the snow was rounded up like a turnpike. The newness of the country greatly increased the hardships of that winter. Our fuel was yet in the forest, and even much of our food supply remained still in the fields covered by the 'Deep Snow'. The population around us was almost wholly from the south and had no conception of such a winter. They were well nigh paralyzed by the task imposed upon them. No morning dawned upon us for many days when the thermometer registered less than twelve degrees below zero. For three weeks it scarcely thawed even on the sunny side of the house. The biting wind was incessant. For nine weeks this snow covered the ground for hundreds of miles in every direction. What a welcome visitor was returning spring."

The diary of William Sewal contains a rare record of the "Deep Snow." December 24, 1830. Snowed considerable. Dec. 25, Christmas, pleasant day. December 29, snowed most of the day. There is now about two feet of snow on the ground. Dec. 31, Cold and disagreeable. Difficult in passing about in consequence of deep snow. Jan. 1, 1831. These days have been very cold and stormy. Jan. 7, There is now 21 to 22 feet of snow on the level of the earth. Jan. 8, Wood scarce and high in town. Jan. 15, Cold. Snow storm from the north and west. Damp snow. Jan. 22, This is the coldest day yet experienced, 18 degrees below zero. Jan. 31, Snow storm. High wind from N. E. About 8 to 10 inches of snow fell. Feb. 3, Clear and gusty wind. Snow drifting and very cold. Thermometer at zero at sunset. Feb. 4, Cold and blustery. This day is supposed to be the coldest yet experienced. The roads are very much blocked and impassable. Feb. 11, Weather has moderated. Feb. 12, John C. Robinson attended the community sale at Murrayville Monday.

Life Of Lincoln Is Discussed At College Hill Meet

Carl E. Robinson Addresses Group Monday Night At Smith House

Abraham Lincoln was the subject of a very interesting address given by Carl E. Robinson of Jacksonville at the guest meeting of the College Hill club last night, held at the David Smith house on Grove street.

Mr. Robinson took the place of Dr. Benjamin Thomas, secretary of the Lincoln Association in Springfield, who was unable to get to Jacksonville. Mr. Robinson emphasized the development of Lincoln from a crude young man to the greatest orator of his day. At first Lincoln was not a success politically. Dejected because of his failure in Congress, he started out lecturing on discoveries and inventions.

This lecture given at Illinois College proved a failure. Lincoln told the boys of Phi Alpha literary society sponsoring the lecture that he would take fifty cents for his supper. Lincoln and David A. Smith once represented Illinois College in a lawsuit. Had they won, the college would have possessed 500 acres of land and would now probably be a rich institution.

Lincoln's reply to Douglas was perhaps the first speech of consequence which he made. His Gettysburg address and the second inaugural speeches for all time. The Gettysburg speech was not appreciated at the time. It was over the heads of the audience. The English were the first to herald it as a great speech.

Lincoln was not a great soldier or a great politician, according to Mr. Robinson, but he rose to sublime heights as an orator. Mr. Robinson emphasized the fact that Lincoln had a great and generous soul "with malice toward none" a soul disciplined by hard work and suffering.

Miss Ryan, the president of College Hill club, introduced the speaker, Miss Rhoda Olds, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Jane Scott, sang a group of songs.

After the program, refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. P. B. Oxtoby, Dean Clara B. Williams, Mrs. La Rue Van Meter and Miss Jessie Jenks.

Wayland Brooks Plans Downstate Campaign Soon

First Meeting At Bloomington; To Speak Here Tuesday, March 10

Wayland Brooks, Republican candidate for governor, will open his downstate primary campaign at Bloomington, Tuesday, March 3, with afternoon and evening meetings for voters of the 17th Congressional district. Brooks will speak in Jacksonville on the evening of Tuesday, March 10.

Brooks, in the three weeks following the Bloomington meetings, will visit every congressional district in the state. In each district he will hold meetings with the party workers of the various counties comprising the district and in the evenings will speak at mass meetings arranged by his friends.

Delegations from McLean, Livingston, Woodford, Logan and Ford counties, comprising the 17th district, will attend the afternoon meeting at Bloomington and the mass meeting in the evening when he will discuss the Illinois issues.

The fourth week in March and the two weeks in April preceding the primary election, April 14, will find Brooks campaigning in the Chicago Metropolitan area.

Brooks headquarters, in a formal statement, has pointed out that downstate newspapers are giving the candidate great credit for fighting for the principles of State rights and the Preservation of American ideals during the four past years.

"Editorials from all sections of the State," the statement reads, "point out that it has been Brooks' fight that has held the Republican party of Illinois together during the years that Washington and Springfield bureaucrats were trying to break down the sovereignty of Illinois."

"It is because of this fight that the party now looks to Brooks for leadership and is uniting behind him in the race for Governor."

Brooks Chicago headquarters in the LaSalle Hotel states that the flood of mail from every section of the state continues and that far more than half of the county chairmen have now definitely aligned themselves with the Brooks candidacy. Brooks leaders predict that ninety-five percent of the downstate counties will be in line for him before his downstate speaking tour begins March 3rd.
